The Superior Community Working Group (CWG) met to continue to review and draft a Good Neighbor Agreement (GNA). The GNA was originally conceived and proposed by Resolution to be a mutually agreed upon and cooperative way of working with the community. The GNA would also provide an agreed upon mechanism for resolving issues and potential disputes between Resolution and the various organizations that have specific agreements with the company.

After much discussion the members of the CWG and Resolution Representatives agree once again to assign the responsibility of drafting the GNA to the so-called 'gang of four' including Todd Pryor, Carol Schumacker and Lynn Nemeth, representing the CWG, and Dave Richins, representing Resolution Copper Company. This group will report to the larger CWG as they progress in their discussions.
